

A Sustainable Energy Policy for Europe

Political, Social and Economic Implications

3rd International Summer School on Sustainable Development

15 - 22 August 2010

This Summer School will provide:

- academic lectures by international experts
- space for discussing and analysing the social, political and economic implications of a sustainable energy policy for Europe
- opportunity to present research projects – the best project will receive the “European Sustainability Award” sponsored by the European Academy Otzenhausen

Venue:
European Academy Otzenhausen gGmbH
Europahausstraße 35
66620 Nonnweiler
(Germany)

Contact:
Dr. Elisabeth Schmitt
schmitt@eao-otzenhausen.de
Fon: +49 (0)6873 662-441
Fax: +49 (0)6873 662-350

Details and application:
www.eao-otzenhausen.de

Participants:

- Graduate students
- Ph.D. students
- Young researchers (Political Science, Economics, European Studies etc.)
- Young professionals

Number of places: 30

Language of instruction: English

Participation fee:
250/550 Euro (students/professionals)

(incl. programme fees, board & lodging; partial reimbursement of travel costs for students)

Application deadline:
15 July 2010